BOGOTÁ - MONSERRATE

In the morning we will visit Monserrate Hill, which is one of the most emblematic icons of Bogotá, located at 3,152 meters high in the Eastern Hills.

Monserrate is the most visited sacred place in Bogotá, in charge of guarding the city. In addition, it contains great myths and legends about its construction and development. It can be reached on foot, by cable car or by funicular, from where you have a majestic view of the city.

LA CANDELARIA

In the center-east of the city, at the foot of Monserrate Hill and Guadalupe Hill, we are going to find La Candelaria, the place where the city of Bogotá was founded in 1538 and takes its name from a Catholic chapel located in honor of the Virgin of La Candelaria.

It is the pride and main tourist attraction of Bogotá. Its architecture and narrow streets still preserve the magic of the colonial era, and a variable cultural, historical and gastronomic offering.

SALT MINE - ZIPAQUIRÁ

On this day, we will go to Zipaquirá, a municipality that is located in the Cundiboyacense plateau on the eastern mountain range, at an altitude of 2,650 meters, which generates an average temperature in the city between 12°C and 18°C. Being in Zipaquirá, we will enter to the Salt Cathedral, an architectural work built inside the salt mines.

At 180 meters deep, it houses myths and legends of the region and the miners. It is a unique place that has become a religious center and is one of the most famous Catholic sanctuaries in the country, which commemorates the Stations of the Cross of Jesus Christ, attracting pilgrims and tourists.
